The Nevada County Economic Resource Council Foundation recently received a $4,000 PG&E Local Economic Development Grant to help defray costs of its upcoming Economic Forecast Conference.

PG&E's annual Grant Program is designed to help nonprofits in their quest to increase jobs in the primary businesses that sell their goods and services outside of the community and bring money back into the local economy.

The mission of the Economic Resource Council Foundation is to enhance the ability of the ERC to provide education and training to local businesses and economic data to members of the general public.
