NVision, Inc. received the Nevada County Economic Resource Council's Community Appreciation Award on Friday, July 20, 2007, at the Gold Miners Inn, Holiday Inn Express. The Award breakfast was sponsored by the Gold Miners Inn, Holiday Inn Express, which was represented by Mr. George King. Presenting the award was Mr. Jeff Johnson, Chairman of the Economic Resource Council, and Mr. Chuck Neeley, President/CEO. Mr. Dan Miller presented a proclamation on behalf of the City of Grass Valley. The Community Appreciation Award honors and recognizes businesses in Nevada County that embody the spirit of the gold rush pioneers through the export of products or services.

Mr. Birney Dayton and Mr. Jim Meadlock formed NVision in 1989. They had an idea that had not been realized in the field of High Definition Television (HDTV). Although Jim is retired, his software launched U.S. astronauts to the moon in the Saturn V program. Birney, who is the present CEO of NVision, has carried on the dream to become the world-wide gold standard for video and audio signal management throughout every continent on the planet.

NVision has not only continued to create new products, they carry through their ideas by manufacturing these products in a state of the art facility to maintain the highest standard of quality control. They have over 110 employees. Nearly every major broadcast network relies on this pursuit of excellence.

Additionally, NVision believes in supporting the youth of our community by sponsoring two 1,000 per year, 4-year scholarships in engineering for graduates of Nevada Union and Bear River High Schools. In addition to the scholarships they have a summer intern program for up to a dozen high school students.
